Capital Review – English Plaza Project (RiverCenter)

RiverCenter Director James Scavone said the SID had received a zero interest loan to be used to help fund improvement to English Plaza and the area of White Street from English Plaza to Broad Street. He said the funding was being used for planning and development of the project. He said they were working Jackie Flor of the firm Engenuity. Ms. Flor reviewed the process to determine the proposed design. She said they had met with stakeholders and reviewed six designs. She presented details of the final design concept and reviewed the benefits which would include outdoor seating and an alternative event venue among others.
